Civil Defense

max lockwood
Director, Statesboro and Bulloch County

Public education, training and organization. We need civil defense training immediately for some 15 million Americans, and intensive education in self protection for 135 million more. The most staggering civil defense problem is the size of the training and organization jobs to be done.

Try to picture the number of trained workers which would be needed to handle an attack situation. As an example, a single first aid station should consist of almost 200 workers. They should handle about 600 wounded people in twenty-four hours.

Before first-aiders could reach the wounded an engineering service would be needed to clear the rubble. A highly trained rescue service would be needed to get persons out of wrecked or burning buildings. A large would be needed to bring in food, clothing and medicine. There would be the other jobs and family of Atlanta visited his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. Miller, last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Trapnell and sons, Gary and Jerry of Metter, spent Sunday with them and attended church at the Portal Methodist Church.

W.S.C.S. CIRCLES TO MEET MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19

504th Airborne Infantry Reg. to stage parade here Saturday

On Saturday morning, February 23, citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County will be given a parade view of what a modern fighting outfit looks like when the 504th Airborne Infantry Regiment marches down the streets of Statesboro in a post-George Washington birthday parade.

Five airborne infantry companies, consisting of 120 men each, from Fort Sill, Okla., and the Georgia Teachers College Band will take part in the parade which will begin at 10 o'clock. Additional units in the parade will include two 81mm mortars mounted on jeeps, two 155mm howitzers, towed; two jeep type ambulances; and two jeep type ambulances.

The 504th Airborne Infantry was activated on May 1, 1942 at Fort Benning, Ga. They participated in the operations in North Africa, Sicily, Anzio, England, Holland, France, Belgium and Germany. The 504th gave the Germans their first defeat in the Battle of the Bulge.

In addition to the parade there will be a display of weapons used by the regiment on the courthouse square during the day, including machine guns, mortars, rifles, communications equipment and parachute equipment.

The Merchants' Council urges all businesses to display the U.S. flag during the day of the parade.

Guard sponsors essay contest
An essay contest for high school seniors is being sponsored for the second year by the National Guard Association of Georgia. Eligible schools in this area include Statesboro High School, Marvin Pittman High School, Southside Bulloch High School, Screven County High School, Port Republic High School, Bryan County High School, and Clayton High School.

Prizes totaling $375.00 in scholarships will be awarded by the Guard Association, which is headed by Colonel Wesley D. Williams of Forsyth, W. Va. Students may select any college of their choice. Local area winners will receive $25, $15, and $10 cash prizes for first, second, and third places.

Title of the Essay will be "The Economic Significance of the National Guard to the Community."

G.T.C. Masquers present MacBeth
Shakespeare's MacBeth will be presented by the Georgia Teachers College Dramatic Club in the McCran Auditorium Tuesday night, February 26, at 8:15.

The cast includes four Statesboro students. They are Judy Rittenhouse who plays the part of the high school student who is the field of employment and job insurance during 1956. The information is revealed in the 30,000 workers were laid off by employers in large groups because of plant shutdowns for various reasons; over-inflation, fires, completion of contracts, and such.

During 1956 $78,941.00 were paid to unemployed workers in Bulloch County. At present there are 219 unemployed workers drawing job insurance on claims filed in Bulloch County.

Business and industrial expansion and the extension of job insurance coverage to employers of four or more workers brought the number of workers in insured categories to the three-quarter million mark. State-wide insured wages totaled $2,182,113,355.00 in the fiscal year 1956.

"Georgia's economy is on the march. The 1956 report of the Department of Labor indicates that Georgia employers and workers are keeping pace with the march," Huiet concluded.

Let's help them

If you live on North Main Street or South Main Street, or if you are observant, you will have seen by now that new dogwood trees are being planted along the streets.

This is the Hoe and Hope Garden Club, in cooperation with the City of Statesboro, working at their project of helping make the streets of our city more beautiful.

The trees are being set out under the supervision of City Engineer James Bland. They are being placed so they will not become a nuisance nor hazard to automobile traffic with special emphasis on avoiding obstructing the side street view at corners and intersections.

The members of the Hoe and Hope Garden Club hope that home-makers along the street will appreciate enough what the club is doing to keep the trees watered—when they need water—until they have become well established.

Last fall the club began the project by selling dogwood trees in order to stimulate interest on the part of homemakers to help make Statesboro the most beautiful community possible.

Let's go along with these lady-folk and help keep these dogwood trees living so that we might later enjoy their beauty.

(NOTE: Members of the club wish it plainly understood that if a home-maker or home owner has any objection to their planting a dogwood in front of their home, or if they know of a tree already planted that might become a traffic hazard, please notify Mrs. I. M. Foy Jr., by calling her at phone 4-2410.)

Teacher of the Year

We believe that the selection of Miss Rita Lindsey as Bulloch County's "Teacher of the Year" has the approval of all who know her, all who work with her and all who have heard of her.

We join them in congratulating her upon the high honor which has been given her.

We've known Miss Lindsey for a long time, and to us she is one of whom only the finest can be said.

We've heard children moving up from the first grade who hoped they would be assigned to Miss Lindsey's second grade room. We know mothers who express their hope that Miss Lindsey as a teacher. Such hope expressed by those she touches is evidence of the high esteem she holds in her profession.

Our very best wishes goes with her when she meets with other "Teachers of the Year" to be interviewed here on March 6 for the selection of the "Teacher of the Year" for the First District.

For Mrs. Hughes

We commend the people of Bryan County upon selecting Mrs. F. W. Hughes as their "Teacher of the Year" for 1956-57. They could not have made a finer selection in our opinion.

For forty-eight years, Mrs. Hughes has devoted her talents, her enthusiasm, her energies, her life to teaching young people during the formative years of their lives. Her imprint is upon the lives of many citizens of the Brooklet community and Bulloch County.

When Bulloch County lost Mrs. Hughes to Bryan County it was to Bryan's credit that she elected to devote her teaching experiences to the children of that county.

Her selection fills her friends in Brooklet and Bulloch County with satisfaction and we join them in wishing for her the best that this life offers.

Horses for funerals

It will be interesting to see how the Army comes out in its effort to do away with horses at military funerals. When it was announced that recommendations were made to replace horses with motor vehicles for military funerals, a shout of protest went up from old-timers and horse lovers.

Military custom has been that 16 white horses pull the caisson with the coffin, accompanied by a black riderless horse. Now efficiency experts of the army say it costs too much to use horses for a funeral—a matter of something over a hundred dollars against about $2.50 for a motor vehicle.

Of course horses have to be fed and groomed and fitted with shoes, but nobody believes economy is at the bottom of the horse discard—wherever heard of the army economizing, anyway? It's sabotage, that's what it is, probably inspired by communists or the A.D.A., or something of that nature.

We'll bet it isn't Constitutional either, for horses are a minority group, and the Supreme Court should protect them from General Motors.

However, there is one ray of hope, the budget has to be passed on by Congressman Vinson's committee, and the committee might not go along with those who have no respect for tradition.

Kings need Princes

"King Cotton" is still "king" in the South, according to Phil Campbell, Georgia's commissioner of agriculture.

Mr. Campbell told winners of the Southeast last week that cotton is still the greatest crop in our section, and is still of major importance to the economy of the South although acreage and export sales have been gradually slipping away.

He pointed out that with present improvements in soil building practices and methods, it is becoming easier to make a profit on cotton than before.

This must sound good to those farmers who have grown cotton all their lives and have been having to listen to those who would advocate abandoning the "king" in favor of pretenders.

But even "kings" do better when their courts have the support of the princes—like "Prince Tobacco" and "Prince Livestock."

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

THIS WAS CLEAN-UP WEEK for us here at our desk. Our working space had sort of piled up on us to the extent that we were becoming uneasy about what might be in it all. So we began going through it and came upon some things we had intended using from time to time.

For instance: THE GEORGIA State Chamber of Commerce has come up with some figures that prove what businessmen have known a long time: They are not getting rich. And here's why—only fifteen and one-fourth minutes of the eight-hour workday goes for profit. It takes three hours and fifty-five minutes to pay for materials and supplies, forty-three and one-quarter minutes for taxes; one hour for lunch; two hours, nineteen minutes for wages and salaries; and twenty-nine minutes for repairs and replacements; and fifteen and one-half minutes for research and promotion. Depressing isn't it?

AND National Children's Dental Health Week was observed February 3-9. That week was set aside so that dentist, health workers, teachers, parents, and youngsters themselves could look at the dental health problem—which is an alarming one in its magnitude.

AND Dorothy Kilgallen, newspaper columnist and TV star, recently had something pleasant to say about newspapers as reading matter. "You can read on a train crossing the desert or on a plane at 17,000 feet above the Atlantic—no static, no fading, no blips," says Miss Kilgallen. "You can read in a bathtub or while hanging on a pole in a crowded bus. You can read as much or as little as you want, as fast or as slowly as you want." And along comes the vacation folder from Quebec, Canada.

AND a vacation folder from Quebec, Canada.

WE SPENT a pleasant morning cleaning up our desk. We found a lot of interesting reading, some of which we now wonder why we saved. And that vacation folder fascinated us.

"What happened to the magic of childhood?" is an article that appeared in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post. It is a part of the book, soon to be published by M. W. Norton and Company, and written by Robert Paul Smith.

Those of us who remember our childhood as a magic period of life look forward to the rest of this book, for we too have wondered so often what has happened to the magic of childhood.

Mr. Smith writes about many things that was as a boy. But he didn't mention a game we played when I was a child. We called it, "Getting a 'Cack' on you." One child would climb a tree and hang from a limb and drop to the ground. Everyone on hand had to do likewise or all the others who did it had a "cack" on her. (I've got no idea where that name came from.)

Then another child would pick a wide place on the banks of the creek in the pasture and take a running start and jump. Anyone who missed the bank and hit the water was, not only mightily wet, but bore the shame of having been "cacked." Hours and hours were spent in such activity. There was never a broken arm or leg, and I wonder why. We jumped off the barn and the pump house and anything else in sight. We climbed the highest trees.

A man went into town one day and told my father that

Meditation for This Week

By THE REV. TED PAGE

THE SOURCE OF FAITH

"I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." Galatians 2:20.

Last week we considered the subject, "Dealing With Doubt," as Jesus said, "Blessed is he, who shall not be offended in me" (Mat. 11:6). He sets forth the tendency of one to doubt with the source of doubting being derived from disease or derangement of bodily function, from disposition to moodiness because happiness is gone, from the good that has come out of evil, from the obedience that enthrones self and eclipses the Savior.

The necessity of faith, a second thought, is brought out in the words, "the just shall live by faith" (Heb. 10:38), "but without faith it is impossible to please Him..." (Heb. 11:6).

Now, what is the source of faith for the believer? For he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him" (Heb. 11:6). Paul, after having his great experience with God, gives his testimony, as to the source of his faith, in Galatians 2:20, "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." Also, he could say with Isaac Watts:

"When I survey the wondrous cross,
On which the Prince of glory,
Died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

"Forbid it, Lord; that I should boast,
Save in the death of Christ
My God!
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to His blood,
See, from His head, His hands, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?"

This serves as a spring for faith.

Yes, as we visualize His love—the love of God is greater than tongue or pen can ever tell; it goes beyond the highest star, and reaches to the lowest hell. The guilty pair, bowed down with care, God gave His Son to win; His erring child He reconciled, and pardoned from his sin—His suffering and agony for us in that while we were yet disobedient, wayward and lost, as sheep without a shepherd, Christ gave himself for us. This should inspire us to exercise faith in the great Shepherd of the sheep, as He is our Saviour, Friend, and Guide.

Christ is the source of our faith. Let us say:

"My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour divine!
Now hear me while I pray,
Take all my guilt away,
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine!

"While life's dark maze I tread,
And griefs around me spread,
Be Thou my guide;
Did darkness turn to day,
Wipe sorrow's tears away,
Nor let me ever stray
From Thee aside.

"When ends life's transient dream,
When death's cold, sullen stream
Shall o'er me roll;
Blest Saviour, then, in love,
Fear and distrust remove;
O lead me safe above,
A ransomed soul."

CHANGING FARM FOOD BUDGET

Georgia farm families today continue to produce much of the food they eat, but they have been steadily increasing the amount they spend at the grocery store. Miss Willie V. Dowdy, home economist, Agricultural Extension Service, reports. Some of the increase was for food bought in restaurants.

John Foster Dulles, Prime Minister of the United States. In the past four years the United States of America has changed from a constitutional form of government to a Monarchy.

Today in the person of Dwight D. Eisenhower we have a king who is above approach. His decisions cannot be questioned, his doctrines are above debate in the Congress and the average newspaperman dares not print one single word of criticism for fear of being destroyed by the mysterious power which Mr. Eisenhower holds over the people of these United States.

TODAY THE REPUBLICAN President plays golf and hunts quail in the south of Georgia while the world faces the most critical crisis in the history of man's existence. Meanwhile his "prime minister" plane-hops around the globe promising, in ever increasing amounts, the man power and money power of the United States to any and all who demand it. In his great intelligence he has the answers to all the questions of world peace and in his masterful way he makes a decision simply by passing on the responsibility which is rightfully his own to the miracle of the United Nations.

In this great facility we have placed our faith simply because it is the easy way.

It has solved no questions of importance and will not do so, for in man has found a way never to be forced into a final solution of any problem. We now have found a way to place our responsibilities and our blame on an organization which exists only on paper. Many times we have proven our real contempt for it for an occasion when necessity has demanded that we have made our own way. We have attempted to tell the world that the way of the United Nations is the way to peace.

THE GREAT Mr. Dulles can make no blunder and he is the greatest of all world leaders for Mr. Eisenhower says he is. If you don't believe this is true then perhaps you would like to go to the trouble of asking Mr. Dulles himself. How can a man who is so bitterly despised and distrusted by so many members of the Congress hope to have any degree of success in the thing of which he attempts to do?

And while time marches on Mr. Eisenhower expresses his great knowledge of economics by passing on to the American people the biggest peace time budget in the history of the world. Just a simple seventy-two billion dollars. Such a staggering sum that we poor simple tax payers cannot even com-quirements, confusion and inefficiency in defense planning, vacillating policies of first emphasis and then de-emphasis with respect to limited versus unlimited war, failure to utilize American productive capacity fully and improper programming of administration by the Department of Defense.

THESE FINDINGS SERVE to emphasize the need for a new concept of national defense based upon latest technological advances and economic realities. Military planning which looks to the past rather than to the future serves neither the public welfare nor provides for the national defense.

The day of the massed military maneuver is so much history and victory in any future war will belong to the nation which controls the skies not only over its own shores but also over the domain of the enemy. Recognition of that fact and realization that the only sure way to prevent war is through strength so overwhelming no foe would dare risk the consequences of attack should prompt the United States to make whatever revision in its defense establishment is necessary to achieve that supremacy.

How to Save Tax Dollars

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Taxpayers make more mistakes in listing their income than any other type of error, according to a survey made by the Internal Revenue Service. It is important to know what to include and what NOT to include. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed on a tax return:

Dividends from an insurance policy.
Social Security benefits.
Gifts.
Payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

The answer is that NONE of the above should be listed as taxable income. There are other forms of exempt income, too, which you will find listed in the official instruction book. Some of them are:

- Inheritances and bequests (the estate may be taxed but not the recipient).
- Railroad Retirement Act benefits.
- Dividends from a court or paid out of court for personal injuries.
- Government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except nondisability retirement pay or interest on terminal leave bonds.

How Prizes Are Taxed
If you won a prize, watch this fine distinction: the prize is taxable if you were required to exert even the slightest effort to earn it; on the other hand, if it was made in recognition of scientific, literary or other achievement you would have been exempt unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research.

Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research.

DR. MARSHALL HAMILTON

Hamilton Elected A.S.T. President At National Meet

Dr. Marshall Hamilton, coordinator of off-campus student teaching of Georgia Teachers' College, was elected regional president of the Association for Student Teaching in eleven southeastern states at the association's meeting last week in Lexington, Kentucky.

The Association for Student Teaching is a national organization of college personnel engaged in teacher education and is responsible for the internship program of teachers in colleges and universities. Dr. Hamilton has supervised off-campus internships for the Georgia Teachers' College for the past three years.

Other college staff members attending the conference from the same institution included Miss Bertha Freeman, coordinator of elementary education; Miss Constance Cone and Doris Lindsey, supervising teachers from Marvin Pittman School and Mrs. Opal Knepp, supervising teacher from Glenview High School.

WATERMELON PREFERENCE IN GEORGIA
Georgia Crop Reporting Service records show that Georgia farmers planted 58,000 acres of watermelons in 1956—ninety per cent of them in the Southern half of the state. Leading variety was Charleston Grey. Other varieties, in the order of their popularity, were Congo, Black Diamond, and Cannon Ball.

Mother-daughter banquet at S.H.S.

By RAMONA LEE

Statesboro F.H.A.'ers and their mothers were entertained at a mother-daughter buffet supper Wednesday evening, February 6. The supper was held in the gaily decorated lunch room.

One main attraction of the evening was a skit on the wearing apparel and social customs of girls since the "Stone Age."

Those who participated in the skit were: Edna Mae Denmark, Virginia Chapman, Patsy Rocker, Linda Lee Harvey, Julia Ann Tyson and Carolyn Deal.

F.H.A.'ers and their mothers who attended were: Eugenia Suter, Mrs. Eugene Suter; Reta Parker, Mrs. Effie Parker; Carolyn Webb, Mrs. G. P. Webb; Julie Ann Tyson; Ann Turner, Mrs. Grady Lee; Beverly Joyner, Mrs. L. P. Joyner; Lynelle Gay, Mrs. Robert E. Gay; Jane Smith, Mrs. J. E. Smith; Carolyn Deal, Mrs. Inman Deal; Marilyn Perkins, Mrs. Sidney Perkins; Norma Rushing, Mrs. Eddie Mae Rushing; Jane Beasley, Mrs. Kenneth Beasley; Romona Lee, Mrs. Emmitt Lee; Mary Frances Monroe, Mrs. Shelby Monroe; Linda Franklin, Mrs. George R. Franklin; Gladys Banks, Mrs. Osborne C. Banks; Barbara Anderson, Mrs. J. Rufus Anderson; Virginia Chapman, Mrs. O. D. Chapman; Patricia Redding, Mrs. J. P. Redding; Pat Lamb, Mrs. Bartow Lamb; Pat Murphy, Mrs. A. P. Murphy; Carolyn Deal, Mrs. Eugene Deal; Carol Huggins, Mrs. W. C. Huggins; Penny Rimes, Mrs. Penton Rimes; Bonnie Dekle, Mrs. Lehnman Dekle; Natalie Parrish, Mrs. F. E. Parrish; Patsy Rocker, Mrs. Marianne DeLoach; Frank P. DeLoach; Martha Sue Smith, Mrs. Homer Smith; Edna Mae Denmark, Mrs. I. C. Denmark; Dolores Johnson, Mrs. Ezra Johnson; Gayle Hamilton, Mrs. Marshall Hamilton; Mickey Roberts, Mrs. J. W. Roberts; Bonnie Wyatt, Mrs. W. B. Wyatt; Dotty Howard, Mrs. Ray Howard; Linda Lee Harvey, Mrs. H. V. Harvey Jr.; Rodin Hall, Faye Hagan.

Honor guests included: Mrs. D. L. Deal, head of the English department at S.H.S.; Mrs. J. L. Kingery, Miss Sara Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. Francis Crews, Mrs. Lula Parrish, Mrs. Otis Waters and daughter, Kay, Mrs. V. F. McNure, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Sherman, and Mrs. Curtis Williams and Joyce.

Eugenia Suter, Statesboro F.H.A. president, presided over the occasion.

Mrs. Evelyn DeLoach, director of the home economics department at S.H.S., could be seen in the background, seeing that things came out as she had planned.

MORE LIME NEEDED ON GEORGIA SOILS
Although Georgia farmers used 300,000 tons of lime in 1955, they used 1,700,000 tons less than the amount recommended by the Georgia Extension Service agronomists. Inadequate use of lime is restricting crop production in the state, says P. J. Bergeaux, Extension agronomist-fertilizer.

250,000 families, perhaps as many as 750,000 adults, who own 41 rural electric cooperatives in Georgia have so improved their living standards with ample low cost electrical service that they prefer to live in rural areas. Proof that "industry saw" this vast labor potential is in the fact that industry has located all over Georgia. Construction "under way" is evidence that others are still seeking.

Rural electrification is proud that it has had a major part in the better economic balance offered by farming and industry. This transition, just now approaching the budding stage, is the result of much cooperative effort.

"Willie Wiredhand" Says

Those people and companies who have, through careful planning, worked so diligently are to be commended. All Georgia is behind this industrial growth and will as opportunities are recognized, contribute to it.

Georgia for many years has been known as a state of talented people and golden opportunities. Industry necessarily needs talented people and it constantly seeks golden opportunities.

Industry learned that many of Georgia's talented people were rural people and that these same people would welcome an opportunity to work in industry. This work meant that one or more members of a family could contribute to the family income.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS FOR LADIES OF ROCKWELL STAFF

The Statesboro Recreation Center was the scene of a lovely morning coffee on Tuesday, February 12, when the Statesboro Senior Women's Club was hostess to the wives of the supervisors and staff of Rockwell Corporation.

The guests were greeted on their arrival by Mrs. L. M. Darden, president of the local club, and Mrs. E. L. Barnes, first vice president of The Georgia Federation.

Mrs. DeWitt Thackston presided at the registration book and Mrs. J. E. Bowen presented each honoree with a lovely carnation. Music was furnished during the hour by Mrs. Georgia Beatt and Mrs. W. W. Thackston.

The refreshments reflected the Valentine season. The dainty sandwiches were in heart shape with sweet and meat variations, butter fingers and coffee. There were 28 members present.

CIVIC GARDEN CLUB

The Civic Garden Club met Thursday, February 14, at the home of Mrs. Waldo Floyd with Mrs. Aubert Brannen, Mrs. R. L. Winburn and Mrs. Floyd as hostesses.

The topic for discussion, "Romanance of the Camellia," was adequately and beautifully presented by Mrs. Percy Bland.

The club members brought a number of specimens of camellias to the club meeting and they were displayed on the table in the dining room.

In a quiz program members were asked to identify each specimen shown. Mrs. Clyde Mitchell won a blue ribbon for her superior knowledge of camellias.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Glenn Jennings, club president, heard reports and suggestions for the Tour of Homes in March.

The refreshments reflected the Valentine season. The dainty sandwiches were in heart shape with sweet and meat variations, butter fingers and coffee.

There were 28 members present.

BRIDESMAIDS' LUNCHEON

Misses Ann Preston, Willette Woodcock and Ann Lamb entertained Miss Karen Witte at a beautiful four-course luncheon on February 9, at Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen.

Centering the bride's table, which was overlaid with a white line cloth, was a bridal doll, wearing an exact replica of Karen's wedding gown. Marking the seating of the guests were miniature wedding bells with shawers of white satin ribbon and camellia corsages. Karen was lovely wearing a Dior blue crystal dress with white sequin hat and wearing a corsage of red roses.

Guests invited for 1 o'clock were the honoree, Miss Witte, Mrs. Leslie Witte, Mrs. Harry Clark, Mrs. Kenneth Oefelein and daughter, Miss Cheryl Oefelein, Mrs. Charles F. Landwehr, Miss Lynette Landwehr of Freeport, Ill., Mrs. Roger Holland Sr., Mrs. Dan Williams, Mrs. Shields Kanan, Mrs. Maurice Brannen, Mrs. Percy Bland, Mrs. Dan Lester, Misses Patricia Brannen and Claudia Tinker.

A beautiful gift of sterling silver in Karen's chosen pattern, was the gift of the hostesses.

Ann Preston presented Karen with the bridal doll which was the centerpiece and had been made by Mrs. Prince Preston.

REHEARSAL PARTY Following the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Karen Witte and Glenn Oefelein on February 10, Mrs. Horace Forshoe, Mrs. DeWitt Thackston and Mrs. Hobson Dubose entertained at a dinner party on Saturday evening, February 9, at the home of Mrs. Forshoe on Ridgewood Avenue. Guests were the immediate families, the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

In the living room were arrangements of camellias. Centering the table, which was covered with a white cut work cloth, was a lovely tiered arrangement of camellias, flanked by candelabra with lighted tapers.

Karen presented to her attendants, lovely pearls, which they wore in her wedding. To little Jojo DuBoise, the flower girl and to Gregory Kanan, the ring bearer, she gave engraved identification bracelets. To the junior groomsmen, Jimmy Kanan and Karen's brothers, Gary Glenn gave engraved gold pocket knives. Glenn presented his groomsmen engraved tie clasps.

WITTE-OEFELIN VOWS The marriage of Miss Karen Sue Witte and Glenn Oefelein was solemnized Sunday afternoon, February 10, in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles F. Landwehr, pastor of First Lutheran Church of Freeport, Illinois, assisted by the Methodist pastor, the Rev. Dan Williams, officiated.

The arch over the choir loft was covered with Woodwardia Fern. The background was formed of palms. Branched candelabra in pyramid effect, held white burning tapers. A central sunburst arrangement was of white carnations and white chrysanthemums, on either side of which were smaller, similar arrangements. Bouquets of white carnations and chrysanthemums were on either side of the altar. A spray of white flowers and white satin ribbon cascaded from the pulpit. Reserved pews were marked with bouquets of white carnations and white satin bows.

Mrs. Roger Holland Sr., organist, presented a program of traditional wedding music, prior to the vows. Miss Shirley Helmy, soloist, sang "Through the Years," and "I Love Thee." Forming the gateway separating the bride and groom from members of the wedding party, were sprays of white carnations and white satin bows.

The formal Lutheran wedding service was used. After the blessing of the marriage, the grandmother of the bride was dressed in Dior blue with matching accessories and a carnation corsage.

Miss Cheryl Oefelein, sister of the groom, was very lovely wearing a pink broadcloth dress with a pink and white carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Oefelein will make their home in Freeport, Ill.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Landwehr and daughter, Lynette, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oefelein and daughter, Cheryl, of Freeport, Illinois; Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Witte and family of Plattville, Wisconsin.

DESSERT PARTY FOR MISS DEKLE On Friday afternoon, February 15, Willette Woodcock and Mrs. Ray Mitchell of Savannah were co-hostesses at a dessert party honoring their cousin, Miss Margaret Ann Dekle, bride-elect of March 2, at the Woodcock home on Zetterower Ave.

The living room and TV room were decorated with carnations and gladioli. The table, overlaid with a white linen cloth and centered with pink and white azaleas, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was flanked by pink candles in silver candleholders. Mrs. Mitchell poured coffee at the silver.

The guests were served French trappes, individual pink and white cakes, coffee, toasted nuts, and a variety of fruit.

Their gift to Margaret Ann was a plate in her breakfast china. Margaret Ann was lovely in a dramatic black afternoon dress.

Twenty-five of her friends attended the party.

MISS DEKLE HONOREE AT LUNCHEON Mrs. Clyatt (Thelma) James and Miss Jane Beaver were hostesses Saturday, February 9, at a luncheon in a private party room at Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen.

The table had for its bride decor an artistic arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and lavender flowers. Place cards were attached to wedding rings. Their gift to Margaret Ann was a cream pitcher in Imbrepta china.

Luncheon guests were Misses Margaret Ann Dekle, Miss Jane Morris, Miss Charlotte Blitch, Ida Whittle, Mrs. Paul Atkins.

BRIDE OF MARCH FETTERED AT TEA On Wednesday afternoon, February 13, Mrs. W. O. Parrish of Metter, Mrs. Aubert Brannen and Mrs. H. L. Brannen entertained for their niece, Miss Margaret Ann Dekle, with a lovely tea at Hodges Party House.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Hubert Brannen and Mrs. Aubert Brannen. The receiving line formed in the living room with Mrs. Inman Dekle, her daughter, the lovely bride, Miss Margaret Ann Dekle, and the groom's mother, Mrs. J. O. Johnston, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Walter Thaggard of Savannah, and grandmother, Mrs.

The night before the guests arrived the table was made ready with a lovely handkerchief linen and lace cloth made by Mrs. Dekle. Since she was expecting company Sunday the flowers which were brought for the table and other accessories like crystal card holders, in which the gold candles were placed at the last minute, went unobserved. Her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, slipped the beautiful four-tiered wedding cake in the house.

Finally, her sister, Mrs. Thaggard, insisted that Mrs. Dekle change to her lovely brown silk dress with lace and crystal bead trim. A corsage of gold and cream carnations was pinned on the dress. When the guests began to arrive, cake, punch, nuts and mints were served.

Pictures were made of the bride and groom. A picture of Mr. and Mrs. Dekle and bride and groom fifty years ago was brought out.

The wedding gown, in the prevailing fashion that time, was white, beautifully pinned and lavishly trimmed with lace. A lady had come down from New York City and while down South made twelve trousseaus for Claxton girls.

Among those present Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, John Dekle, Margaret Ann and her fiancé, Joe Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Aubert Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert

Brannen of Statesboro, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Parrish of Metter, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Daniel of Claxton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Savannah, Dr. and Mrs. Marcus B. Dekle of Macon, Mrs. F. M. Dekle of Cordele; and many other friends and relatives.

There were fifty guests who came to celebrate with them.

REGISTER HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB On Friday, February 8, the Register Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. L. J. Holloway with Mrs. J. O. Johnston as co-hostess, at an all-day meeting with a covered dish luncheon.

The project for the day was coppering, enamelling, and weaving.

The business meeting was held in the afternoon. Mrs. Gertrude Gear assisted the members in the projects and plans were made to visit Rich's in Atlanta in March. Many of the women are planning to go for new ideas in homemaking.

Mrs. Sara Thigpen joined them later in the afternoon.

There were twenty members present.

ST. MATTHEW'S CATHOLIC WOMEN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING The regular monthly meeting of the St. Matthews Catholic Women's Club was held February 5, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Don Hackett on Donehoo Street. There were twenty-two members present. Mrs. Ann Sack, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Jerry Strozzi, secretary.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Zoltan Parks, treasurer, followed by a business discussion. Appointments were made by Mrs. Bob Crawley for the various monthly duties of the ladies. Mrs. Emory Allen gave a report on the club's annual project.

A letter received from a priest in Austria in gratitude for relief packages sent by the club was translated by Mrs. Parks.

A guest of the meeting was Mrs. Swift, the mother of Mrs. John Herzog Jr., who is visiting with her daughter.

Refreshments were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Don Hackett and Mrs. Francis Henry.

MRS. FLOYD ENTERTAINS THREE O'CLOCKS AT BRIDGE Saturday, Mrs. Waldo Floyd entertained her bridge club, the Three O'Clocks, at a lovely lunch luncheon at her home on North Main street.

Lovely arrangements of camellias were used in the living room and dining room. Jonquils and clipped pine were used on the luncheon porch.

After the luncheon, the bridge games started. Mrs. Lane Johnston, a guest from Columbus, Ga., was remembered with lingerie. Mrs. Everett Williams won linen mits and napkins for high score. Mrs. Henry Blitch received a set of TV trays for cut. A shoe bag went to Mrs. Virginia Evans for low. Guests were invited for four tables.

MRS. MARVIN PITTMAN VISITS IN STATESBORO Mrs. Marvin Pittman arrived Tuesday night on the Nancy Hankins from her home in New Iberia, La., to visit, first with her friend, Mrs. C. P. Olliff Sr., and from there she will stay at the Aldred Hotel. Mrs. Pittman has many friends in Statesboro, both on the college campus as where her late husband, Dr. Marvin Pittman did much to add to the great institution, Georgia Teachers College as president and President emeritus. Mrs. Pittman opened their lovely home each year for the Freshman Class, and on many other occasions. She was instrumental in creating more interest in the Girl Scouts.

His little girl friends received unadorned and the boys were excited over parachute blowers. Bird's birthday cake was like a home on a ranch with cowboys, horses, and Indian decorations. Punch, cake, and ice cream were served. Mrs. Hodges' mother was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Bowen. Later Mrs. Ruth Graham showed a movie. Bird was smartly dressed for an afternoon party in a blue velvet coat and navy blue linen pants.

There were forty-five boys and girls at the party.

GROUND WAS broken at the State FFA-FHA Camp near Covington last week for a new cottage, marking the beginning of a $200,000 improvement and expansion program. The Georgia Electric Membership Corporation gave $12,500 for the first cottage. Breaking ground are W. R. Bowdoin, chairman of the FFA-FHA camp development committee; and D. M. Pollack, Monroe, GEMC president. Watching are T. G. Walters, state Future Farmer leader; J. E. Fain, camp committee member; and Miss Inez Wallace, Future Homemakers leader.

This organization was disposed by C. P. Brunson, J. L. Dekle, M. E. Ginn and A. B. McDougald some 10 days ago when representatives of the state 4-H Club office and agricultural engineers were in the county. It was pointed out that in 1940 Bulloch County had only 128 tractors, but as of January 1, 1955, this number had increased to 1,852. Most of this increase came about in some nine years, too fast for operators to have a chance to learn enough to have the most useful application of machine and their equipment and the best maintenance care.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. DEKLE OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Saturday, February 9, Mrs. W. L. Thaggard of Savannah, a sister of Mrs. Harvey Dekle, and a friend, Mrs. Homer Daniel of Claxton, and Mrs. Otis Waters of Register, made plans to honor Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dekle on their fiftieth wedding anniversary. All arrangements were made so that the celebration would come as a complete surprise. Their maneuvering was successful for Mrs. Dekle had already planned to have her family and close friends to have Sunday dinner with her.

The night before the guests arrived the table was made ready with a lovely handkerchief linen and lace cloth made by Mrs. Dekle. Since she was expecting company Sunday the flowers which were brought for the table and other accessories like crystal card holders, in which the gold candles were placed at the last minute, went unobserved. Her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, slipped the beautiful four-tiered wedding cake in the house.

Finally, her sister, Mrs. Thaggard, insisted that Mrs. Dekle change to her lovely brown silk dress with lace and crystal bead trim. A corsage of gold and cream carnations was pinned on the dress. When the guests began to arrive, cake, punch, nuts and mints were served.

Pictures were made of the bride and groom. A picture of Mr. and Mrs. Dekle and bride and groom fifty years ago was brought out.

The wedding gown, in the prevailing fashion that time, was white, beautifully pinned and lavishly trimmed with lace. A lady had come down from New York City and while down South made twelve trousseaus for Claxton girls.

Among those present Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, John Dekle, Margaret Ann and her fiancé, Joe Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Aubert Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert

Brannen of Statesboro, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Parrish of Metter, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Daniel of Claxton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Savannah, Dr. and Mrs. Marcus B. Dekle of Macon, Mrs. F. M. Dekle of Cordele; and many other friends and relatives.

There were fifty guests who came to celebrate with them.

REGISTER HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB On Friday, February 8, the Register Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. L. J. Holloway with Mrs. J. O. Johnston as co-hostess, at an all-day meeting with a covered dish luncheon.

The project for the day was coppering, enamelling, and weaving.

The business meeting was held in the afternoon. Mrs. Gertrude Gear assisted the members in the projects and plans were made to visit Rich's in Atlanta in March. Many of the women are planning to go for new ideas in homemaking.

Mrs. Sara Thigpen joined them later in the afternoon.

There were twenty members present.

ST. MATTHEW'S CATHOLIC WOMEN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING The regular monthly meeting of the St. Matthews Catholic Women's Club was held February 5, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Don Hackett on Donehoo Street. There were twenty-two members present. Mrs. Ann Sack, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Jerry Strozzi, secretary.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Zoltan Parks, treasurer, followed by a business discussion. Appointments were made by Mrs. Bob Crawley for the various monthly duties of the ladies. Mrs. Emory Allen gave a report on the club's annual project.

A letter received from a priest in Austria in gratitude for relief packages sent by the club was translated by Mrs. Parks.

Members of the club were enrolled in the Apostleship of Prayer.

A guest of the meeting was Mrs. Swift, the mother of Mrs. John Herzog Jr., who is visiting with her daughter.

Refreshments were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Don Hackett and Mrs. Francis Henry.

MRS. FLOYD ENTERTAINS THREE O'CLOCKS AT BRIDGE Saturday, Mrs. Waldo Floyd entertained her bridge club, the Three O'Clocks, at a lovely lunch luncheon at her home on North Main street.

Lovely arrangements of camellias were used in the living room and dining room. Jonquils and clipped pine were used on the luncheon porch.

After the luncheon, the bridge games started. Mrs. Lane Johnston, a guest from Columbus, Ga., was remembered with lingerie. Mrs. Everett Williams won linen mits and napkins for high score. Mrs. Henry Blitch received a set of TV trays for cut. A shoe bag went to Mrs. Virginia Evans for low. Guests were invited for four tables.
